Your MAGS Board - A Winning Team

MAGS welcomes our new President, Al Werking, and welcomes back our Board Members! Al inherits a winning team with this Board, a team which made my four years as MAGS President especially rewarding.

Dot Reed, First Vice President and Membership Chair, worked tirelessly to maintain a steady membership. She has been assisted by Susannah Brooks, Stumped Roots Chair, who also indexed and put in book form several years' issues of Der Kurier. .

Betty deKeyser, former Second Vice President and Programs Chair (now Member-at-Large), effectively planned and organized the programs for our fall and spring meetings in a timely fashion, which facilitated the effective publicity work of our Corresponding Secretary, Marilynne Ocando assisted by Member-at-Large Jo Boroff. In addition to her duties as Corresponding Secretary, Marilynne organized our mailing lists. Gail Komar, MAGS Treasurer, flawlessly kept our finances in order. Always willing to pitch in, Gail helped Joan Sheviak, MAGS's Registrar, execute program logistics. All of the above named persons coordinated the MAGS luncheon and booth at the NGS Conference in Richmond. These ladies make MAGS look good!

Deyerle Atkins, our Recording Secretary, didn't miss a beat while recording minutes at Board Meetings and the General Meetings. .Merl Arp, Der Kurier Editor, put the newsletter together and coordinated with Dot Reed to ensure its timely delivery. Carl Shrader, Administrator of the Lending Library, and John Humphrey, past Member-at-Large and now Second Vice President, have been "can do" achievers on tasks beyond their normal duties. Ed Winner continued to recruit MAGS members to use his Surname Index Program, the computerized program that puts researchers investigating the same surnames in touch with one another. And MAGS owes special thanks to Bev Hoch, Edythe Millar, and Shirley Forrester, MAGS Historian, Queries Chair, and Ahnentafel Chair, respectively. These ladies have long demonstrated their dedicated service to MAGS members.

Running a national organization as large as MAGS is a complex task because of the multiplicity of services and activities, coupled with the fact that our Board members are scattered over a wide area. But thanks to the professionalism of these talented and dedicated people, MAGS remains an organization that has served and continues to serves its membership well. It is now poised to enter the new millennium stronger than ever.

PENN'S WOODS REVISITED - The MAGS Fall Meeting at Trappe

A full day in an historical setting made a lovely backdrop for the MAGS 1999 Fall Meeting at Trappe, Pennsylvania, on October 23. Three knowledgeable speakers gave informative talks on the Pennsylvania State Archives, Germans in Bucks County, and Mennonite relations with other churches.

In a slide presentation, Jonathan Stayer, a Penn State Archives employee, reviewed the many resources the Archives has to offer. These records are available for research in the Archives Search Room, 3rd and Forster, in Harrisburg, PA. Stayer suggested Robert M. Dructor's Guide to Genealogical Sources at the Pennsylvania State Archives (1968) as a detailed outline of Archives' holdings. In a second lecture, Stayer reviewed the published Pennsylvania Archives, warning researchers to dig further than this valuable source because of omissions and errors in that multi-volume work.

Frances Waite, library assistant for the Spruance Library of Bucks County, gave an overview of German immigration into Pennsylvania and especially to Bucks County. Waite said that by 1775 to 1778 about two-thirds of Upper Bucks County inhabitants had German or Swiss heritage. Next, Dr. John Ruth gave entertaining and informative perspectives on Mennonite settlement in the region. Waite's and Ruth's presentations greatly helped attendees understand the historical area they were visiting.

Nearby sites were specially opened for MAGS attendees, including the historic Old Trappe Church built in 1743. Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg, patriarch of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, founded this church after immigrating in 1742 from Germany. Those attending were also able to tour Muhlenberg's house and the historic Dewees Tavern. Some attendees whose roots go back to Trappe said that in all their years of researching they had never been able to enter the Muhlenberg house or the Old Trappe Church, so this MAGS program was a special treat.

Our thanks go to many for the MAGS Fall Meeting: to Betty deKeyser and John Humphrey, program arrangers, and Susannah Brooks, for arranging entry into these historic sites; to Pastor Herbert Michel of the Augustus Lutheran Church, to Dr. John Shetler, and Dr. Ivan Hess, for their tours of the Trappe Church, Dewees Tavern, and Muhlenberg house respectively.

We owe special thanks to Joan Sheviak, MAGS Registrar, and Marilynne Ocando, Corresponding Secretary for making available the many handouts which provided information on the historical sites of the area. Vendor Jane Adams Clarke of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania added free handouts on research in the area. The brief business meeting included installation of officers of the new MAGS board. The day was topped off with s sumptuous lunch and a dozen door prizes.

BENNERs On Fraktur

Ray Benner asked about BENNERs on fraktur. I forwarded Ray information from several fraktur having the name BENNER. Data from a few examples are included here. A taufschein (baptism certificate) in the collection of Martin Amt of Mt. Rainier, Maryland, mentions BENNERs. It was made for Georg BENNER, son of Samuel and Hannah (WEICKEL) BENNER. Georg was born April 5, 1855 in Upper Milford Township, Lehigh County, Pennsylvania. He was baptized May 6, 1855 by Pastor KESSLER. Sponsors were Peter and Susanna SCHULER.

Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, has a taufschein made for John HAMOR, son of Allen and Catharina HAMOR. Catharina was the daughter of Paul BENNER. John HAMOR was born November 20, 1796 in Vincent Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania. No baptismal information is given.

A taufschein made for Anna Elisabeth MUELLER says Carl and Elisabeth BENNER were sponsors at Anna Elisabeth's baptism. Anna Elisabeth was born November 20, 1784 in Lebanon Township, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania. She was baptized by Pastor MELSHEIMER on December 31. Her parents were Johann Georg and Maria Susanna MUELLER. This example is pictured in The Folk Tradition: Early Arts and Crafts of the Susquehanna Valley (p. 62), published in 1982 by the Roberson Center for the Arts and Sciences, Binghamton, New York.

The whereabouts of a taufschein made for Elisabetha BENNER is unknown. Elisabetha's parents were Henriy [sic] and Barbara (WAMBOLD) BENNER. Elisabetha was born in Franconia Township, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, on April 12, 1807. She was baptized June 7, 1807 in Rockhill Township, Berks County, by Georg ROELLER. Sponsors were Ludwig and Elisabeth BENNER.

The Free Library of Philadelphia has a taufschein made for Jacob BENNER, son of Johannes and Elisabeth (ZIEGENFUSS) BENNER. Jacob was born February 28, 1805 in Rockhill Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. He was baptized by Pastor ROELLER (no date given). Sponsors were Johan Jacob and Maria LUTZ. This example is pictured (#71) in The Pennsylvania German Fraktur of The Free Library of Philadelphia, published in 1976 by The Pennsylvania German Society and The Free Library of Philadelphia. A second example is also pictured there (#510). It was made for William Benjamin, son of Johannes and Elisabeth HINKEL. Elisabeth HINKEL's father was Ludwig FLUCK. William Benjamin was born May 12, 1844 in Richland Township, Bucks County. He was baptized June 26, 1844 by Pastor KEMMERER. Sponsors were Ludwig BENNER and Maria Anna HINKEL, both single.

A Bible record in a private collection was made for Jacob and Ester (BENNER) LANDES, who married on September 8, 1839. Jacob was born August 11, 1816. Ester BENNER was born March 29, 1816. They had two children. Maria was born March 23, 1841 and William was born October 8, 1843. Ester died August 22, 1846 at age 30 years, 4 months, and 24 days. A month later, on September 25, five-year-old Maria died. Jacob LANDES married a second time to Rebecka KINDIG on June 25, 1859. They had a stillborn daughter in 1860 and a second daughter named Eliesabetha LANDES, who was born May 9, 1862 in Upper Milford Township, Montgomery County. Death dates are given for what may have been Jacob LANDES's parents, although the record does not make that relationship clear. It says Abraham LANDES died February 14, 1855 at age 72 years, 3 months, and 23 days. And Maria LANDES died February 9, 1859 at age 73 years, 5 months, and 4 days.

If you have names you wish me to research on fraktur, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Russell D. Earnest Associates, P.O. Box 1007, East Berlin, PA 17316.

An Overlooked Source: German-born Account Holders in the Freedman's Saving and Trust Company

Compiled by Susannah E. Brooks

As genealogists we have a tendency to categorize records by time period, record source, or ethnic group. In many cases this narrows our search and helps to pinpoint the records we need to find specific information about our ancestors. In other cases it causes us to overlook valuable sources of information, because the records do not fit into our parameters. A case in point is the records of the Freedman's Saving and Trust Company, especially the signature cards. "Among the most underused bodies of federal records useful for African American genealogical research are the records of the Freedman's Saving and Trust Company."[1] These records are almost entirely overlooked by those doing European immigrant research. Immigrants, who were born in Germany or other German-speaking parts of Europe, opened more that four hundred accounts.

The Freedman's Bank was established in 1865 by a group of philanthropists and investors and chartered by Congress as a place for Black soldiers to save their bounty payments, pay, and bonuses. Because many slaves had been denied the right to learn to read and write, a signature was often useless as a means of identification. Therefore, the bank required a great deal of information about the person (age, complexion, birthplace, where raised, residence, parents' names, names of spouse and children, siblings names, etc.). When the branches required that the "cards" be completely filled out (not all branches did), the result is a mini-genealogy of the family. The Bank became the bank for the military in a few cities and the soldiers were the first European immigrants to open accounts. Of the signature cards that survive, various branches had varying numbers of Germans opening accounts (from 4 in Shreveport, Louisiana to approximately 240 in New York). The New York Branch passbooks included information about bank rules, etc. in English, German, and French, so it is obvious that this branch intended to attract immigrant depositors. The New York Branch signature cards are the most complete, asking, in addition to the required questions, "how long have you been in the US; age and location of parents, siblings, and grown children; name of husbands of married sisters or daughters, and amount of initial deposit." For the researcher lucky enough to have an ancestor (or one of his/her immediate family members) who opened an account in the nine years the bank existed (1865 -1874), this may be the place to find the hints needed to determine birthplace, date of immigration, or location of a sibling who vanished. The weakness of these records is the information was dictated to a bank employee, who had little knowledge of German names or geography. Like other records of this era the spelling is creative at best. Often the records are incomplete (Baltimore branch records are consistently incomplete

As space permits copies of information from individual signature cards of persons born in Germany will be printed in Der Kurier. "Germany" will include the various German states, Alsace in France, Switzerland, Poland, Bohemia, and Austria. The compiler has attempted to copy the records exactly at they were written on the signature cards. At a later date other records, such as letters and questionnaires completed by a few German-born account holders, will be included in articles in Der Kurier. (continued next page)

Nemesis At Potsdam: The Expulsion of the Germans from the East

by Alfred M DeZayas.

Revised edition available from Picton Press, P.O. Box 250, Rockport, ME 04856. Soft-cover, 6"x 9", 270 pages, photographs, maps, illustrations, complete index $23.95 postpaid.

Ethnic cleansing is not a term or process new to the late twentieth-century - in central and eastern Europe it has been going on for centuries. America and the world have taken note of the purging in Serbia in this decade, but the West knows little of the cleansing that took place in eastern Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia at the end of World War II. Russian and eastern European troops, with full knowledge of the American and British governments, expelled fifteen million German-speaking men, women and children from east and central Europe. Two million of the fifteen million German civilians died during the expulsion.

Alfred M. DeZayas in his book Nemesis at Potsdam chronicles the details of the horror and the American complicity. He discusses the genesis of the Oder-Neisse Line which fixed Germany's eastern border. Zayas goes on to note the transfer was not as "orderly and humane" as had been decreed in the Potsdam Accord. In 1945 the Times reported that Berlin hospitals "made the sights of the concentration camps appear normal."

For Americans whose German roots are in the east, this book is a must if somewhat disturbing read.

New York State Cemeteries Name/ Location Inventory 1995-1997

Compiled by the Association of Municipal Historicans of New York State

1999 Heritage Books, Inc., 1540 Pointer Ridge Place, Bowie, MD 20716 (1223 pp., 5.5"x 8.5", soft cover) Item # A534 $83.50 +S/H

This three-volume publication is the first state-wide community service project compiled by the AMHNYS, an attempt to inventory all the cemetery sites in the entire state. This work includes name of cemetery, location, dates of first and last burial, type of cemetery (private, religious, military, etc.), whether active or inactive or deserted, and name of contact person. Some entries note number of grave-sites, Rev. War burials, etc.

The data is organized alphabetically by county, by towns and cities within each county, and by cemetery site within the smaller jurisdiction. The Table of Contents shows in which counties the cemeteries of the five boroughs of NYC are listed. Volume I includes the counties of Albany through Livingston; Vol. II Madison through Schuyler; and Vol. III Seneca through Yates.

A researcher will likely need all three volumes in order to access the data, since the Table of Contents is in Vol. I and the Index is in Vol. III. The coverage is excellent for some localities, but absent or uneven for others. Some locations were listed but noted as not participating. Other localities were neither listed nor noted why they were missing. For example, the City of Binghamton has several cemeteries but city or its burial sites are not mentioned. Appendix B of Volume III includes An Inventory Addendum Request Form) so that additions and corrections may be made to the original inventory.

A word of caution about using the Index. It is comprehensive but it has a glitch. Be sure to look up your entry twice in the Index, once in the uppercase list and next in the lowercase list which follows. This was apparently a data entry incompatibility, which hopefully will be corrected in subsequent editions.

This work is a major accomplishment. Undoubtedly, more data has been collected than was summarized in this initial offering. I hope funding and interest in this project will continue to produce valuable material for all researchers.

History of Augusta County, Virginia
by
J. Lewis Peyton.

Originally published in 1882 by Samuel M. Yost & Son, Staunton, VA. Reprinted in 1986 by Heritage Books, Inc., 1540E Pointer Ridge Place, Bowie, MD 20716; 1-800-398-7709. Soft cover, 387 pages plus index, Item #P197. $31.00 plus $5 shipping.

Augusta County in Virginia was established in 1738. Originally, it covered a vast area referred to as the "utmost limits of Virginia," which meant its western boundary was the Mississippi River. The heart of the County was the Shenandoah Valley, which was first explored by Alexander Spotswood, who served as Governor of Virginia from 1710 to 1723. In 1716, Spotswood lead a party called the "Knights of the Golden Horseshoe" over the Blue Ridge into the Shenandoah. From their accounts, settlers east of the Blue Ridge began to take note about "this lovely and fruitful Valley," and were soon attracted to settle in it. In 1732, sixteen families from Pennsylvania settled near today's Winchester. That year, Jost Hite and others settled on a 40,000-acre piece of land in the Valley. Unfortunately for German researchers, Jost Hite is given less attention in the early narrative concerning Augusta County than are other early inhabitants -- especially those of British ancestry. The author especially covers the history of John Lewis, whose French Huguenot family settled in Ireland prior to immigrating to America. He details information about the Koiner family, originally from Wurtenburg, and the Hanger family from Germany, but most families he discusses are of British and Irish origin, including Tates, Baldwins, Bells, Cochrans, Crawfords, Prestons, and others.

The value of this book to German researchers is not in family history. Instead, it provides a frame-work for understanding the early history of the Shenandoah Valley where Germans settled in significant numbers.

MEMOIR AND OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF GEN. JOHN STARK; Also a Biography of Capt. Phinehas Stevens and of Col. Robert Rogers

Originally published in 1877 by Edson C. Eastman, Concord, NH. Reprinted in 1999 by Heritage Books, Inc., 1540E Pointer Ridge Place, Bowie, MD 20716; 1-800-398-7709. Soft cover, 526 pages, indexed, Item #S705. $32.00 plus $5 shipping.

Gen. John Stark begins with the memoirs of John Stark, who was born in New Hampshire on August 28, 1728. He was the son of Archibald and Eleanor (Nichols) Stark of Scotland. An addition to his memoirs notes that Stark married Elizabeth Page, who was ten years his junior. Stark lists children born to him and Elizabeth, and the author of the book, Caleb Stark, follows this list with this comment: "The Stark family is supposed to have originated in Germany."

Stark relates his capture by Indians in 1752, his running the gauntlet, and his life among Indians. He further details his activities in the French and Indian Wars where he fought with Captain Rogers, and his activities in the American Revolution. His memoir is followed by correspondence between him and such notables as George Washington, Ethan Allen, Horatio Gates, John Hancock, and Thomas Mifflin. The correspondence, in turn, is followed with a biography of John Stark's son, Major Caleb Stark (1759-1838), Captain Robert Rogers of New Hampshire, and Captain Phinehas Stevens.

This book focuses on early New Hampshire history, so the German researcher looking for ancestors in the Mid-Atlantic states will find little help here. However, those wanting to learn more about the history of the French and Indian Wars and the Revolutionary War will find this book most interesting.
